Radio & Computer Nerd.

Hello.

Hey! Thanks for taking a second to look at this, I realize the orange is a bit bright, but I think it looks pretty cool. I love radio. Since I was like 10 I've been trying to do something with my voice. When I was like 12 I started to use this 'live podcast' website to do my own little podcast/show/thing. From there I've grown to start doing my own syndicated night show on 14 stations. On my way up from there I've learned exactly what radio is, and if I actually want to do it, and I do. I've setup my own professional-grade studio in my basement, and have helped on several Internet stations, but I want to learn more and gain experience in the field.

Recommendation.

Rick Adams - Radio Man, TV Personality, Author

"Mike Kerr's dedication to radio reminds me of me when I started out in commercial radio in the UK - I then went on to run AOL Kid's Radio in the U.S. so I'd recommend Mike because he's clearly got staying power and talent by the bucket load".
